6.1.1 The governance and leadership is in accordance with vision and mission of the institution and its visible in various institutional practices such as decentralization and participation in the institutional governance.

One of the top technical colleges in Maharashtra, SVP COLLEGE OF PHARMACY was established in 2016 with the goal of producing qualified pharmacists who can improve the healthcare system in the community. In order to fulfil its mission, the institute provides a B.Pharmacy and M.Pharmacy programme. Working in accordance with the policies and procedures of the affiliating university and Statutory Regulatory Agencies, the institute strives to provide the best pharmaceutical education possible.

SVPCOP is governed by a body with a clearly established organisational structure. which also oversees the quality and advancement of the Institute and its stakeholders and ensures that its policies stay in line with its vision and goal. There is clear definition of the function and responsibilities, recruitment procedure, code of conduct, and service norms. Through oversight, development, leadership, and visionary responsibilities, the principal serves as a leader in promoting the comprehensive formulation of instructional policies and distributing them down the line.

The institute has established many academic and administrative committees to ensure the seamless operation of various activities related to the institute's vision and goal. On these committees, there is representation from both staff and students. Various committees hold regular meetings where decisions are made by consensus. These choices are carried out.

The organisation encourages a participative management style that involves all stakeholders in the decision-making process and is centred on decentralisation. It reflects the formulation of plans, policies, and their implementation.

The Principal and IQAC are granted autonomy and adaptability by the upper management to oversee the academic and administrative operations of the institute. They meet on a regular basis and take the required actions to plan, develop, and carry out the policies that support the institute's expansion in line with its goals and objectives.

Every academic year starts with a faculty meeting where the topic of how to keep the school running smoothly all year long is discussed. A number of committees are established and given certain duties. Every committee has a chairperson who is chosen by the members, and they all strive to improve the quality of their work.

The institute's principal oversees all academic and administrative responsibilities. In order to preserve an effective operating pattern, the vice principal for administration keeps an eye on and helps with the execution of administrative tasks.

The vice principal for academics oversees the correct execution of the academic calendar, keeps tabs on the status of class assignments, covers the curriculum, mentors students, and directs and oversees extracurricular activities. HODs are assigned particular tasks and obligations to handle the daily, normal work of their department.
